More than books?

In addition to vast material collections you have access to the following services:

- Answers to your questions, both in person and via the phone. Call (817) 871-READ (7323).
- Reader's Advisory Service for those looking for similar author/genres.
- Instructions on how to use and evaluate materials and information
- Computers for public use, with a valid library card. Some rules apply, please check with library staff.
- A variety of programs including the Summer Reading Program, storytime, gaming tournaments, art exhibits and book club discussions.
- Classes on computer education, career exploration and development, personal finances and small business.
- Space for your reunions, neighborhood meetings and social activities at the following locations: Diamond Hill Jarvis, Shamblee, Summerglenn, East Regional, Southwest Regional and Central.

How do I get a library card?

Go to your library with a picture ID and complete an application. Your library card is free.

How many items may I check out?

Up to 50 items, including books, 10 videos, 10 DVDs, 10 CDs and 10 audiocassettes.

How long may I keep what I check out?

You may keep most items three weeks; videos and DVDs must be returned in one week. Items may be renewed twice, if no one has requested them.

What are the fines for overdue items?

Fines for children's books are 15¢ per day; fines for adult books are 25¢ per day; fines for movies are $1 per day.

What if I want a book or other item that is not available at my library?

- Place a reserve on any item in the Fort Worth Public Library collection.
- Borrow materials from the collections of 10,000 libraries nationwide, usually for free. Ask any librarian how to use the Interlibrary Loan Service.
