PROJECT COMPONENTS

DIMENSIONS OF QUALITY

Tenant-Centered	Tenants play an active role in planning the supportive housing project, and all partners share a common commitment to helping tenants thrive.	Staff educates tenants on their rights and responsibilities as leaseholders, actively soliciting tenant feedback.	Services are voluntary, customized and comprehensive, reflecting the needs of all household members.	Tenants have meaningful opportunities for leadership through avenues such as tenant associations and board positions.
Accessible	The housing is affordable, in a location that meets tenants' needs and accommodates persons with special needs.	Tenants move into housing quickly, and the process accommodates their varying backgrounds and cultural needs.	Staff actively works to ensure that tenants are aware of available services, which are at convenient hours and locations.	The housing application and screening process is part of a larger community strategy to coordinate access to housing.
Coordinated	Roles, responsibilities and communication strategies are clearly established among the supportive housing partners, codified in written agreements and revisited regularly.	Staff works closely with service providers and landlords to ensure tenants sustain stable housing.	The primary service provider has established connections to mainstream and community-based resources.	Tenants who have high service needs or who are high utilizers of existing systems are given priority for available units.
Integrated	The supportive housing project meets or exceeds community standards, and the partners actively engage in community dialogue.	All tenants are offered a choice of housing unit and have a lease identical to tenants not in supportive housing.	Staff supports tenants in developing and strengthening connections to their community.	There is an overall strategy promoting the ability of tenants to choose from a variety of housing models and neighborhoods.
Sustainable	The supportive housing project has funding that is adequate for its ongoing operations and allows it to target its intended tenants.	While respecting tenant rights and privacy, staff regularly checks to ensure that the unit remains in good condition and receives any needed maintenance.	The supportive housing project has funding that is sufficient to provide services to tenants on an ongoing basis and flexible enough to address changing tenant needs.	Goals outlined in community planning efforts, such as 10-year plans to end homelessness and consolidated plans, are furthered as a result of this supportive housing.
