OFFICE OF THE POLICE OVERSIGHT MONITOR

Monthly Report November 2024

LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY

Dear Fort Worth Community,

Reflecting on November, I am reminded of how truly grateful I am for the unwavering support of our community, the dedication of law enforcement, and the contributions of everyone who makes Fort Worth such a special place.

This month, I had the opportunity to join FWPD's Pawel Nabielek on the MarkOut for Training Podcast, where we discussed use-of-force cases from other regions and the legal frameworks that guide them. Our OPOM team also participated in a NACOLE webinar focused on the importance of a discipline matrix in policing, emphasizing accountability and transparency.

I was honored to engage with the community through speaking events with organizations like Steer Fort Worth and Leadership Fort Worth. These conversations centered on justice, its impact on our community, and the role of leadership in driving meaningful change. We are also excited to celebrate the ongoing success of our mediation program, which continues to rebuild trust and foster communication. This month, I want to highlight one of our 12 incredible volunteer mediators, Shureka Johnson. Her dedication to OPOM is evident in her commitment to mediation and her enthusiastic support of our events and outreach efforts.

Thank you for being such an important part of this journey. I look forward to continuing this important work together as we strive to make Fort Worth a stronger, more connected community.

Sincerely ependent Police Monitor

WHO WE ARE?

"Fostering Community Trust Through Collaboration and Law Enforcement Accountability and Transparency."

WHAT WE DO?

In response to a high-profile police incident and protests in 2017, the Fort Worth City Council formed a task force of community leaders. Initially focused on race and culture discussions, it expanded to address disparities in areas like criminal justice, economic development, education, health, housing, and governance. The criminal justice committee concluded its work by advising the city council to establish a monitor for police oversight. In February 2020, Office of the Police Oversight Monitor (OPOM) was established in accordance with city ordinance and commenced operations in March of 2020 to provide oversight and accountability of Fort Worth law enforcement. OPOM reports directly to the City Manager.

In order to achieve its mission, the OPOM engages in the following primary functions:

- Receives civilian complaints and refers them to Fort Worth Police Department Internal Affairs.
- Audit FWPD training sessions, body-worn camera footage, and use of force reports to ensure adherence to departmental policies.
- Engage with the community regularly to gather input, identify solutions, and improve relations.
- Collect and analyze data related to citizen complaints, uses of force, critical incidents, and other reviews.
- Create a citizen-police mediation program for conflict resolution and improving perceptions.
- Monitor FWPD contact and complaint investigations, identify patterns, and recommend changes.
- Serve as a civilian oversight agency to ensure greater accountability and public trust in the FWPD.
- Provide periodic public reports documenting findings, analysis, and recommendations.
- Review policies and procedures to meet or exceed best practices and address emerging trends.

COMMUNITY-POLICE MEDIATION

What is Mediation?

Community-Police Mediation is a voluntary process that brings together professionally trained community mediators to facilitate a dialogue between community members and law enforcement. It provides a space for open, two-way dialogue, allowing both parties to express their concerns, perceptions, and expectations in a confidential and non-judgmental way. It aims to address conflicts, build understanding, and improve relations between the police and the community they serve. The goal is to foster a more positive and collaborative relationship between the police and the community.

Voluntary

All participants engage in mediation at their own free will. They can end the process at anytime and are not forced to come to any agreement.

Mediation is -

- Non-judgmental
- Confidential
- Voluntary

What qualifies for mediation?
